Collection, Use, and Sharing of Personal Information

Means TV is the sole owner of the personal information that is collected on this site. We only have access to/collect personal information that you voluntarily give us via email or other direct contact. We do not sell or rent this information to anyone.

If you contacted us, we will use your personal information to respond to your inquiry.. Unless you ask us not to, we may contact you via email in the future to tell you about specials, new products or services, or changes to this privacy policy.

We will not share your personal information with any third party outside of our organization.

Access and Control over Personal Information

You may opt out of any future contacts from us at any time. You can do the following at any time by emailing us at contact@means.media:

- See what data we have about you, if any.
- Change/correct any data we have about you.
- Have us delete any data we have about you.
- Express any concern you have about our use of your data.

Security

We take precautions to protect your information. When you submit sensitive information via this site, your information is protected both online and offline. Wherever we collect sensitive information (such as credit card data), that information is encrypted and transmitted to us securely. You can verify this by checking for a lock icon in the address bar and looking for “https” at the beginning of the address of the webpage.

In addition to encrypting sensitive information transmitted online, we also protect your information offline. Only employees who need the information to perform a specific job (for example, billing or customer service) are granted access to personally identifiable information.

If you have an account with us, note that you have to keep your username and password secret.

Fundraising

We request information from you if you give to our fundraiser. To donate or pre-subscribe to Means TV, you must provide contact information (like name, phone, zip code and email) and financial information (like credit card number and expiration date). This information is used for billing. If we have trouble processing an order, we'll use this information to contact you.

Cookies

We use cookies on this site. A cookie is a piece of data stored on your hard drive to help us improve your access and identify repeat visitors to the site. For instance, when we use a cookie for identification, you do not have to log in with a password more than once, thereby saving you time. We use cookies for the following purposes:

We use cookies for the following purposes:

- Necessary cookies – these cookies are required for you to be able to use some important features on our website, such as logging in. These cookies don't collect any personal information.
- Functionality cookies – these cookies provide functionality that makes using our service more convenient and makes providing more personalized features possible. For example, they might remember your name and e-mail in comment forms so you don't have to re-enter this information next time when commenting.
- Analytics cookies – these cookies are used to track the use and performance of our website and services
- Advertising cookies – these cookies are used to deliver advertisements that are relevant to you and to your interests. In addition, they are used to limit the number of times you see an advertisement. They are usually placed to the website by advertising networks with the website operator's permission. These cookies remember that you have visited a website and this information is shared with other organizations such as advertisers. Often targeting or advertising cookies will be linked to site functionality provided by the other organization.

You can remove cookies stored in your computer via your browser settings. Alternatively, you can control some 3rd party cookies by using a privacy enhancement platform such as optout.aboutads.info or youronlinechoices.com. For more information about cookies, visit allaboutcookies.org.

Our use of cookies is in no way linked to any personally identifiable information.
